

Hi Everyone,

My name is Darrell Tallerico, and I have been a member of Hopwood Amvets since February 21, 1997. I designed and developed the Amvets website when it first began, and I continue to maintain and update it today, even though I now live in Florida.

In my spare time, I recently accomplished something I never imagined I would do at the age of 77: I authored a book!

My book, Secrets Beneath Suburbia, is a work of fiction inspired by the kinds of mysteries and possibilities that make us wonder what might be hiding right beneath our feet.

The story follows Dave and Debbie, whose home holds a secret . . . actually, many secrets!

Join this couple and their friend Tom as they venture down the proverbial rabbit hole into a hidden world filled with wonders of the modern age. Along the way, they uncover mysteries surrounding their family's past, expose long-hidden grievances, and discover secrets that may hold the key to the future—not only of their quiet suburban community, but of the entire country.

As they search for answers, they discover that understanding the future may depend on uncovering the truth about the past.

Secrets Beneath Suburbia is available on Amazon in both paperback and Kindle editions.

Thank you all for your continued support of Hopwood Amvets. I hope you will check out my book and enjoy the adventure!

Thanks,
Darrell Tallerico
